

“Leadership Heartbeats”, a unique blend of essentials

Background and description

The name may say it all – we will go to the heart and core of leadership and dive deep into what makes good leadership beat like the heart of an organization! A one-of-a-kind leadership development program developed over years, built on specialized education, research and 20 years of training leaders at all levels. Training and coaching with over a thousand leaders globally has provided a rich material to identify and extract the most common and crucial needs that every leader, regardless of level, industry or location, struggle with. And here is the result!

The concept gives you the best and most applicable competence and models within cross-cultural work, motivation research and essential, core leadership skills which I call 3C – blended into an eye-opening unity as a synthesis, shedding new light, perspectives and richness to all the parts.

The program is unique; developed with strong professional dedication and passion, state-of-the-art models, creative and innovative solutions and the deepest respect for the nuclear power of leadership!

Logistics

Three days are needed to give justice to the content and reflections and invest in reaching the learning objectives

On site, F2F-workshops are highly superior to online training.

The program can be organized in 3 consecutive days, 2+1, 1+2 or 1+1+1.

Learning and Output? You will:

- understand the importance of cultural factors for successful leadership and have acquired in-depth knowledge of your relevant cultures and a model that will help you to navigate successfully in cultural diversity and international business
- acquire an eye-opening and detailed insight into the nature, power of and diversity in motivation – built on empirical science
- gain a greater sensitivity for and toolbox to execute the essential 3C's of Leadership (which may not be what you think) which all must be skilfully adjusted according to your target groups cultural backgrounds and personal motivational engines.
- These essential areas are three-dimensionally blended and integrated in order to tailor and optimise your unique leadership style!

All resulting in greater personal and professional competence and confidence in your leadership role – nailing your strengths, challenges, opportunities - and how you can shape your role, expand your impact and create outstanding results!
